Heavy Taxpayers

List of Big Property-Owners for Current Year

In accordance with a custom we have established for years, we this week present a list of firms and individuals, compiled from the assessment roll of the current year, of all who are assessed for $4000 or over in Amador county, and the amount for which each is assessed. It will be noticed that a number of new taxpayers appear on the list. While township one is far in the lead in the aggregate amount of taxable wealth, township two shows the largest number of individual taxpayers in the list here given, being the first time since we have kept this record that this has occurred, township one heretofore standing first in number of taxpayers as well as in aggregate wealth.

The Dornan Fire Loss Settled

The two insurance companies involved in the partial loss of the Dornan dry goods stock on the 5th of July, have settled with the insured allowing the full amount of damage as returned by the two arbitartors selected to take an inventory of the loss sustained. The loss as found by the arbitrators footed up over $2100. This award was acceptable to both sides, and the companies promptly paid their respective amounts. George Dornan is doing business at the old stand. He had a bargain sale on Saturday, which drew many bargain hunters to the scene. The damage to the front windows and door has not yet been repaired.

The exact amount paid by the insurance companies concerned was:

Royal Insurance Co.	$712.29
New York Underwriters	1424.58

MINING NOTES.

Defender.—Prof. Sharpless of Boston, a metslurgical chemist of note, arrived here from Massachusetts the latter part of last week, and went up to the Defender mine, in which he is interested, on Sunday. They have recently started the cyanide process at this mine in working the tailings, which according to assays run over $2 per ton in value. There are thousands of tons of tailings accumulated on the dumps ready for treatment, and upon these the cyanide tanks have been started. There are 11 tanks. Prof. Sharpless is an expert in such matters and went up to make a critical examination of the plant and probability of its success. We are informed he was favorably impressed with process as applied to the material to be treated. The process was working satisfactorily, with every reason to believe that it will prove a sucess. The plant has been installed not merely to work the accumulated tailings, but also to extract the gold from the tailings as they pass through the mill in future operations. A net saving of $1 per ton will make a material difference in the prospects of the mine. It is to be hoped that this experiment in cyanidation of the ores of the eastern gold belt will turn out a complete success, not only on account of this mine in particular, but because of the stimulating effect it would have upon the whole mining industry of that section. Prof, Sharpless left for the east on Tuesday morning.

Chamber of Commerce.

A meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce was held last Monday evening; all members present except F. W. Ruhser. The meeting resolved itself into a discussion of ways and means to raise more money, as without more financial resources it as considered impossible to do much business. More members must be had. More members means more money; and more money means an active and aggressive campaign.

Get DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve when you ask for it. There are a great many imitations, but there is just one original. This salve is good for anything where a salve is needed to be used, but it is especially good for piles. Sold by City Pharmacy, F. W. Ruhser, prop.

ROBBERY OF QUARTZ MILL

Two Men Captured in Jackson

Stole Plates from Del Monte Mill

Two important arrests were made by sherriff Gregory early this week. The parties are Harry Willians, who has been around these parts a number of years, and J. H. Donaldson, who has been here but a short time. Both had rooms at Chinn's lodging house. It seems they left Jackson a week ago last Tuesday, by way of West Point, proceeded toward Railroad Flat in Calaveras county. They camped near McGary ranch that night, and inquired the way to Rich gulch by way of Del Monte mine Next morning they were still there and wanted to purchase eggs. The following Saturday the plates of the Del Monte 10 stamp mill were stolen. Fred Wright, who is in charge of the Del Monte, noticed some strange tracks about the mill. He became suspicious, and followed them up a mountain side, and came upon the spot where Wililams and Donaldson were camped. He returned to the mill, and discovered that the copper plates were missing They were not in use, but lying loose on a board inside the mill. Wright informed both shreiff Jones of Calaveras and sheriff Gregory of this county of the robbery.

Sunday night they reached Jackson, and were arrested by sheriff Gregory on Tuesday morning at a saloon on Water street. They were placed in separate cells in the jail. Last Wednesday Williams—who is the head of the gang—agreed to go to the locality of Del Monte with the officers. So sheriffs Jones and Gregory, with the prisoner, went to the spot near the Del Monte, and were led to a place in the manzinita where the missing plates were concealed. They were brought to Jackson. Donaldson denies all knowledge of the robbery.

Afterwards the room of Williams was visited, and a piece of copper plate was found. Williams said he got it from Ed Castles, a roomer at the same lodging house. Upon returning to question Castles about the matter, he was not to be found.

The two prisoners will be taken to Calaveras county to-day. Complaints have been made of the robbery of mills all along the mining belt. The plates are valuable for the gold they absorb. It is thought these arrests will lead to the unearthing of other crimes of a like nature.

BASEBALL

The game last Sunday on the Zeila park ground, between Jackson and a nine from Ione and Camanche resulted in a victory for the local players, with a score of 5 to 4.

If you have pains in the back, weak back, or any other indication of a weakened condition of the kidneys or bladder, you should get DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills right away when you experience the least sign of kidney or bladder complaints, but be sure that you get DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. We know what they will do for you, and if you will send your name to E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, you will receive a free trial box of these kidney and bladder pills. They are sold here by City Pharmacy, F. W. Ruhser, prop.

Over Thirty-Five Years

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

THE LOCAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Our recently organized chamber of commerce seems to be moving along rather slowly. The directors realize that more funds must be placed at their disposal, before any substantial results can be accomplished. Organizations of this character, formed for the express purpose of advancing the interests of the whole county, cannot be conducted successfully without considerable money. Some counties —of course, with a much larger population than Amador—contemplate spending from $20,000 to $50,000 per year for the next four or five years for advertising purposes. And it is considered money well invested at that. While it is impossible to do anything on a dazzling scale with the meager funds at the command of the Amador chamber of commerce, still there is no grounds for discouragement on that score. No one, even among those who actively participated in launching the organization, was sanguine enough to think that it would impart a stimulus to the county from the start. Indeed, the general impression was that the beneficial results would be slow in maturing. Even if it should be found that there is not that interest taken in the movement throughout the county that it is rightfully entitled to, while it would be a subject for deep regret, it certainly should not cause any wavering in the good work. There is only room for one organization of this kind in the county. Jackson, as the business and populous center, is the proper place for the location of the headquarters. Any other arrangement under the circumstances would be grotesque and unseemly. The moving spirit is to help the entire county. By concerted effort it will certainly do this in the course of time. Selfishness, it is true, is the mainspring of all human activities. This is as applicable to the chamber of commerce as to other affairs. Those identified with it must be convinced that it is to their interest, either directly or indirectly, to keep it up. If the necessary proof in this direction is not fortcoming, it is inevitable that the organization will be speedily discounted in public estimation—in Jackson itself as well as on the outside. Let the business man be shown that the chamber of commerce means an actual monetary saving to him of several times the amount of his dues every year and he will become not only a supporter but an earnest worker in the cause. The ways in which this can be done will readily suggest themselves. There is the subscription nuisance, and the program advertising schemes that bob up perennially to annoy the tradesman. Such methods thrive in communities where there is no organization to regulate them. The evil is realized, but as individuals they are loath to assume a firm stand in opposition. Then there is the credit business that might be handled with profit.

Now it is up to the board of trade to take up such propositions. And it requires no plethoric treasury to start the reform.

From a statement just issued by state superintendent of schools Edward Hyatt on the school census recently taken throughout the state, the surprising announcement is made that the Mongolian children of school age, including Japanese, have increased 30 per cent during the past twelve months. The increase of census children of all classes for the entire state has been slighly under 30 per cent during the past nine years. That is to say, the Mongolian children have increased in one year in about the same ratio as the entire juvenile population of California has increased in nine years. There is only one explanation of this remarkable showing, namely, that notwithstanding the alleged efforts of the Japanese to discourage emigration to America, the little brown men and women have been flocking into California in great numbers. It is not resonable to suppose that there has been any material inerease in the Chinese element. Statements have been repeatedly made that the Japs have been and still are crowding into California in undiminished numbers. This school census strongly indicates the truth of these assertions. The national government must eventually deal with the Japanese in the same way as the Chinese question was settled years ago—by the enactment of a strict exclusion law. And it cannot come too soon if the welfare of the Pacific coast is the paramount consideration.

Too Much Muscle.

A young highland plowboy was pestering a female servant with his unwelcome attentions, and one day he proposed. At this instant the pair (they were walking in the fields) came upon another servant, a man, sleeping instead of working. The lassie, a brawny wench, seized a stick and beat the idler till he roared. When he had slunk off to his duty the swain remarked admiringly:

"Ma certie, lassie, but ye cud well manage yer childer."

"Aye, or their father," replied the girl, with a significant look.

The lover turned pale.

"Ma lass," he gasped, "I juist remembered ma auld mither at hame. I'm her only laddie, and I think it's na richt for me tae mairry while she's alive. W-w-when she dees I'll come back an' mairry ye."

And as he got safely away he said fervently, "May the Lord alloo ma mither to live as lang as me!"

Deeply Interested.

The play was one of Shakespeare's tragedies. Mrs. Simmons and her little boy, having been unable to secure seats in the parquet, were well located in the front row of the first balcony, where they could see better and hear almost as well as if they had been farther forward on the main floor. Mrs. Simmons was agreeably surprised at the interest that Bobby appeared to take in the somber drama. He sat leaning forward, with his elbows on the cushioned railing in front of him, resting his head on his hands, deeply absorbed. As the curtain went down on the first act he straightened up.

"Well, dear, how do you like Shakespeare?" asked his mother. "Are you enjoying the play?"

"Mamma," said Bobby with the air of one who has made a great discovery, "there are sixty-nine men here that have got bald spots on top of their heads! I've counted 'em five times!"

Swallowing a Reindeer.

"Doctor, doctor! I's swallowed a reindeer!"

Choking violently and literally black in the face, a negro boy rushed into the office of a throat specialist. His small woolly head jerked frantically, and his eyes rolled in anguish. It was very evident that some irritating substance had lodged in his throat.

The specialist summoned his assistant.

"Dr. Blank, here is a young man who says he has swallowed a reindeer."

"Nawsur," sputtered the patient, "it weren't a whole reindeer. It were jess his nake and his horns."

The physicians removed the offending object.

With a long sigh of relief the pickaninny opened his eyes. His glance rested on the instrument table.

"Yassur, dat's de reindeer."

It was an Elks button.—Los Angeles Times.

The Very Worst.

Clara (with emotion)—George, are you sure you will always love me?

George (fervently)—While life lasts, my own.

Clara (suppressing a tear)—George, if trials and tribulations should come.

George (amazed)—My heart is yours alone, my love, and always will be.

Clara (sobbing)—George, are you sure, perfectly sure, that nothing—nothing at all—could cool your affection?

George (thoroughly alarmed)—My gracious! What's happened? Has your father failed?

Clara (hysterically)—Worse, far worse!

George (much relieved)—Tell me all, my angel. I can bear it.

Clara (with a heroic effort)—George, I've—I've got a—a boil coming—coming on my nose.—London Tit-Bits.

A Polished Rascal.

Mrs. Hansom—I understand, sir, that you have secretly been making love to my daughter, and I must forbid an acquaintance begun in that way. You should have seen me first.

Shrewd Suitor—Madam, had I seen you first I should have forgotten your daughter and fallen in love with you.

Mrs. Hansom—Um! The informality of the proceedings was all I objected to. Come with me, and I will introduce you to my husband.

Nelson River.

The Nelson river may be described as one of the greatest rivers of the world as regards the actual volume of water discharged into the Hudson bay. Its total length is approximately 400 miles, and its drainage area is tremendous. Its tributaries cover the whole of Manitoba, the greater portion of Alberta, Saskatchewan, North Dakota and Ontario west of the great lakes, where they also enter Montana and Minnesota.—Exchange.

Two Points of View.

They were looking at a portrait of Catherine of Russia.

Said the man, "What a remarkably strong and vigorous face she has!"

Said the woman, "I wonder if her hair waved naturally."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hope.

"Hope," remarked the mere man, "is certainly a wonderful thing."

"It is," rejoined the wise woman. "Why, one little nibble will keep my husband fishing all day."—Chicago News.

Advice.

"Can I offer you a little friendly advice?"

"If you take a little in return."

Here negotiations ceased.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CONTEST MANAGER

Amador Ledger, Jackson, Cal.

5000 Extra Vote Ballot

Extended for One Week

A Chance to Secure a Big Block of Votes in Ledger Contest.

The 5000 extra vote offer which went into effect on the 24th was a great success, and it has been decided that as so many of the candidates have promises out that they were not able to get in on the special offer, and that the time was short to see all their friends the management deems it advisable to extend the offer until the evening of the 5th so that all may have a chance to get one or more of the special ballots. We desire to also state this is the time to bring your subscriptions in that you have been saving up, as you will lose the chance of getting these special ballots if they are not all in by 8 P. M. of the 5th.

INTEREST IS INCREASING

The contest is rolling merrily along, each day's votes seeming to increase the interest in the contest.

In Dist. No. 1 Miss Ida Smith still holds the lead and promises to hold that position until the end of the contest, although she has a strong opponent in Miss Rose Ratto, another one of the very popular ladies of the county.

Miss Elise Chitwood of Ione holds the lead in district No 2, although as there are a number of good candidates in that district there might be some changes in the next issue. A new candidate in that district has been nominted and promises to make a good run for the piano.

For district No. 3 Miss Nellie Hanley, one of the late ones nominated, is making a great race, as this young lady has territory that is very scattered but nevertheless is in the lead in her district again this week closely followed by Miss May Easton of Plymouth who will be heard from before the contest closes.

THE PIANO SATISFACTORY

That the Kimball Piano to be given away by the Amador Ledger is just what it is advertised, is known by the great interest that it is creating to the contestants and the public, not a day goes by but that some one is calling to see this instrument and the Red Front prop. is busy most of the time showing one of the best pianos on the market to-day. The first time you are in town go to this store and look this piano over and see for yourself that it is all that we claim it is.

THINK OF THE TRIPS

And what it means to you to make this trip either to the beach in the heat of August, or to Frisco to attend the celebration of Portola week, which will eclipse any thing of its kind ever held before.

Both of these trips are well worth the best efforts of the contestants to secured, and there are two for each district.

SUPPORT YOUR FAVORITE

If you have a friend in the list of candidates, now is the time to get in and give her your support, this is the time that a little encouragement goes a long way with the ladies in the race.

It would be well to state here that new names can be entered until the last week of the contest, and there have been instances where candidates who entered late in the race secured more votes than anyone else during the entire length of the contest, but the earlier the start the better the chances are for success in the finish.

Right now is the time for votes and subscriptions to be secured. Get your friends in the race early and keep them in it by giving them your support, find out how far in arrears you are and see that it is paid up and the votes given to some candidate who will appreciate the trips or the piano.

The way to win one of these prizes is to keep at it until the close of the contest. Let not a day go by without you have seen some one and secured his suscription, the way to keep your friends working for you is to show them that you are in dead earnest about winning a prize, and it will be hard to find any one who will not give you all the assistance that they possibly can, providing they have not promised their votes to some one else.

So work hard the few remaining days of the contest and get all the special ballots you can.

Remember you are not restricted to any number of these special ballots, for if you get enough sets for a dozen we will give you 5000 extra for every set of six subscriptions, old or new, turned into this office before next Thursday night at 8 P. M.

Sees Mother Grow Young

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs W. L. Gilpatrick of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." They invigorate all vital organs, cure liver and kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c at Spagnoli's Drug Store.

W. J. McGee a prominent attorney Amador county and Walter Hansel of Stockton are said to have broken all automobiles records between here and Stockton. They started Wednesday morning a t 6:15 and drove sixty miles to Stockton over mountainous roads in two hours and 44 minutes. The roads were good but so mountainous that it seems that an auto would have difficulty in making such extraordinary time.—Angels Record.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Jackson Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Jackson readers.

Mrs Mary Lema, 511 E. St., Stockton, Cal., says: "I am pleased to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as I have used them with the most satisfactory results. I suffered for some time from kidney and bladder trouble and no matter what remedy I tried, I received no relief. My Kidneys were disordered and irregular passages of the kidney secretions annoyed me. My back was very sore and at times I was lame upon arising in the morning. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills and procuring a box, I began their use, according to directions. In a few weeks I was free from kidney trouble and I have not been bothered since. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a number of my friends and will continue to do so.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Eat What

You want of the food you need Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you.

It would bankrupt us.

The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Miss Loretta Meehan, accompanied by her sister, Mrs Fontenrose, left Sunday for San Francisco. She expects to go to one of the seaside resorts for her health.

Mrs J. R. Huberty, and daughter letf Sunday for Oakland and San Francicso on a visit.

Mrs J. D. Palmer, accompanied by her daughter Edna, left Monday morning for Oroville, on a visit with relatives.

Joe and Ned Aleck, a pair of unruly Indians belonging to the Pine Grove camp, entered Webster's saloon at the Grove last Friday, and caused so much disturbance that they were turned over to the authorities. Next day they were fined $30 each or 30 days, by the Volcano justice of the peace and lodged in jail the same day. Whenever one of their class gets into the county jail, a group of Indians gather on the outside of the court house, and wait around for hours. The presence of a number of Indians about the court house is always a sign that one or more of the digger tribe is in durance vile.

Wililam Tam jr., who has been on a visit to his folks here, after graduating as cartoonist at the Polytechnic high school in San Francisco, will leave to-morrow to take a course at an art school in Berkeley, at which a brother of Nahl, the well known artist, is an instructor.

The auto stage line comes in very handy sometimes, outside of the regular passenger business. A few days ago an urgent request was sent here from Sacramento for a trained nurse. It may appear strange that a large city like Sacramento should be short of nurses, and apply to a distant small town like Jackson to supply the need in an emergency. But such was the fact in this instance. The auto stage was called into requisition to get the nurse, Miss Guisto, to the capital city in quick time. It left here at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and reached Sacramento at 5 o'clock, making a stoppage of half an hour on the trip.

Mrs Jos. Phelps left Sunday morning for Pacific Grove, on a visit to her mother, and expects to be away for two months.

Miss Gertrude Barker was a passenger ont the outgonig stage Sunday, en route for Oakland.

Miss Kate Spohn, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs Langhorst, for several weeks, left for her home in San Francisco Tuesday morning.

Willis Hoss, came down from Defender district Sunday for surgical advice and other business. While working around some logs two weeks ago he fell against the edge of a sharp stump, striking the right side. While his injuries did not disable him, the side has been very painful and troublesome ever since, so he came to consult a doctor. He returned home the same evening, no permanent effects being apprehended.

Mr and Mrs Geo. Vela left yesterday morning on a summer vacation to Santa Cruz. Miss Mazie Garbarini, who has been visiting Mrs Geo Vela's left yesterday morning to return to her home in San Francisco.

Miss Hilda Hamrick, after a visit of several weeks in Jackson, returned to her home in Sacramento yesterday.

Miss Lucy Perovich, after a pleasant visit with friends in San Francisco and San Jose, returned home Wednesday evening.

Miss Dottie Shealor, a former resident of this county, but now employed in Placerville was one of the successful ones in the voting contest just concluded by the Republican-Nugget of El Dorado. She had the choice of a scholarship in Howe's acadamy, or a trip to the coast. She selected to take the scholarship. She is a niece of J. F. Mellow of this city.

The Sacramento auto, stage line broke down last night at Martells. An axle broke on the trip this morning could not be undertaken.

A garage is to be started at once in Jackson by H. Thorpe & Co of Jackson. The old blacksmith shop next to National Hotel has been rented for the place of business.

One Block of Sightseeing.

It was on East Eleventh street that the sightseeing wagon started. Anxious mothers placed their very small children in it, then stood anxiously watching the youngsters for fear they would fall out, in spite of the fact that the wagon was very low and drawn by a little white pony, who went along in a walk. A man walked beside the wagon. A small boy on the front seat drove, holding the reins in a slack way and chatting with a small child by his side.

"How much do you charge them for a ride?" asked a woman on the sidewalk.

"One cent," said the man.

"And how far do you go?" she asked.

"Just up and down the block," said the man. "Afraid to go any further—afraid I'll lose them."

The woman counted the children, sixteen. Sixteen cents for going up and down the block.

"There are a lot of little ways of earning a living on the east side," she said.—New York Press.

Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Transcript on Appeal

The transcript on appeal in the case of people vs A. Borello was given into the hands of the Dispatch for printing last Saturday. Borello was convicted last year of arson in connection with the burning of the Summit house on Sutter hill, and sentenced to ten years in San Quentin. He appealed, and secured a writ of probable cause, which acts as a stay of proceedings, and keeps him in the county jail. Since his partner in the crime, Domenico Manzo, was taken to the penitentary, Borello has been lonesome. He is weary of detention in the local jail, and wants to go to the state prison; but his attorney has not consented to the course. It will be many months before the appeal will be heard in the appellate court. The transcript on appeal is supposed to be filed within 30 days after settlement of the bill of exceptions by the trial court. The transcript in this case is a voluminous document. It will equal in number of pages the appeal in the famous Staples' case. Of course it cannot be printed in a county office in anything like 30 days. After this is filed briefs on each side will have to be filed. Six months at least will elapse before the matter is decided. All the expense of printing, etc falls upon the county. The transcrips and briefs will involve a cost in the neighborhood of $1000. It is one of the peculiarities of California law, that after spending large sums of money to convict a criminal, the convict is accorded the right at the people's expense of trying to undo the judgment by appeal to the higher court.

Trampled by Team.

Lorenzo Molfino, who has been employed in hauling logs with a ten-animal team from the mountains to the Kennedy mine, was the victim of a serious accident last Tuesday. He had just brought in a load to the mine. He was riding one of the horses and it stumbled and threw him against one of the other animals. He lay unconscious for fifteen minutes, and when he came to, one of the animals had two feet on his body. He had received a blow on the forehead, and bruises about his legs. Employes at the mine noticed something wrong, about the time he recovered consciousness, and hastened to his assistance and got him out of his predicament. He was taken to Piccardo's place, and has been confined to his bed since. Dr. Sprage has charge of the case. No bones were broken.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and muscous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Serious Attack by Preston School Inmates.

A serious affair occurred at the Preston school of industry a week ago last Saturday. Little mention has been made of the disturbance in the papers, for obvious reasons. While the management of that institution is above reproach, and everything possible is being done to carry out the principle upon which the school is founded—the reformation of unruly boys—it is nevertheless true not only with this particular institution, but with all others where youths who have got beyond parental control are concentrated, that there is always an element present with vicious and criminal instincts that will come to the surface in spite of everything that can be done in the interest of reform.

It appears that on the day named one of the boys—a half breed from one of the counties in the southern part of the state—made a vicious assault upon one of the officials of the school. He struck him in the head with the blunt part of a hatchet, felling him to the floor. He struck him once or twice with the same deadly weapon after he had fallen. He thereafter jumped out of a window, and made an attempt to escape. He was speedily catptured. It is believed that this murderous assault was the result of a conspiracy of at least three of the inmates to gain their liberty. The injuries inflicated upon the official thus assaulted were not of a dangerous character. The management of the school is making every effort to get at the bottom facts concerning this plot. It is the intention to prosecute those implicated. Sheriff Gregory went down to the school last Sunday to consult with W. T. Randall, the superintendent, in regard to the matter. The affair will be laid before the trustees at their next meeting, and thereafter it is expected steps will be taken to prosecute the offenders.

The assailant's name is A. Journey, who was committed from San Luis Obispo county, and has been in the school but a short time. He is between 18 and 19 years of age. The victim of the attack is J. W. Strawn. Journey has been kept in confinement since.

The Indian Reservation

Howard Hill, federal supervisor of Indians, made a visit to the Indian reservation about three miles northeast of Jackson, last week. He is regularly employed in the work of visiting the Indians throughout the country, under the direction of the department of the interior. He reports directly to Washington. There are between 40 and 50 indians on the reservation. The number varies. They are mostly self-supporting, being allotted a small garden patch, which they are expected to cultivate and grow sufficient for their own use. The government has not furnished food for those on this reservation for a number of years. The superintendent, Geo. A. Grist, has received word from Washington that commencing with September next, rations will be issued to the old and feeble—those who are beyond the years of active work. There are four or five belonging to this class.

The Proposed New Mail Line.

On the 23d July proposals for carrying the mail from Martell to Plymouth were closed. Whether any bids were received for this service we have not learned. On account of the time schedule the contract was not looked upon with favor by possible bidders, inasmuch as it would involve traveling in darkness both going and coming for a considerable portion of the year. The Amador Central Railroad Co, which has the contract for carrying the mail between Jackson and Amador City, has been offered by the post office department $351.52 additional as an inducement to extend their route to Plymouth, which of course would dispense with an entirely new route from Martell to Plymouth. According to report the railroad company is not anxious to accept the terms.

Installation of Officers.

The local lodge of Ancient Order of Foresters installed their incoming officers on Saturday, July 24 as follows:

Samuel H. Phear, chief ranger; Henry Chapman, past chief; James Maddern, sub. chief; William Lyne, senior woodward; John Rule, junior woodward; James Rowe, senior beadle; John Kelley, junior beaddle; Fank Simsich, treasurer; Theadore Beauchemin, secretary. Charles Oliver, Herbert Grigg, and Peter Leonasio; trustees. Dr. A. M. Gall, physician.

After the installation refreshments were served and all had a good time.

CALIFORNIA CONSOLIDATED MINES COMPANY.

Files Articles of Incorporation.

Articles of inorporation of the California Consolidated Mines Co. were filed with the county clerk on July 24. This company is incorporated under the laws of Arizona. The scope of its business as set forth in its articles is very wide, including mining, electric lighting, manufacturing, and so forth. The capital stock is $5,000,000, divided into 5,000,000 shares of the par value of $1 each. The term of existence is 25 years. There are eleven directors, those named for the first term, which ended Januray 3, 1908, were W J Murphy, president; G N Sharp, vice presient; J M O'Gray, secretary; E L Breamer, treasurer; John Ross, jr., Jackson Dennis, John A McIntyre, Homer Wilson, H W Huntley, Wm R T Ewen, jr., H Theodore Hansen. It is provided that the company shall not incur indebtedness exceeding 60 per cent of its capital stock, and the private property of stockholers shall be exempt from liability for the debts of the company.

This company is arranging to operate on an extensive scale in Amador county. It has acquired the Wildman group of mines in Sutter Creek; and recently purchased the Keystone mine at Amador City. Upon the latter property it proposes to concentrate its efforts for the present, believing that this famous mine, by the judicious expenditure of capital, will again respond as liberally in its output of gold as at any time in its past history.

Straightening Out the Sutter Creek Bank Tangles

C. H. McKenney, the receiver of the notorious Sutter Creek State Bank now in process of liquidation, has petitioned the superior court for an order authorizing him to accept a certain compromise on two suits commenced by the receiver against John and M. Levaggi to recover from each the sum of $500 due on a note for that amount, and interest. It seems the notes were given July 25 1906, and about that time transferred to the bank as part of its assets. The petition of the receiver sets forth that these notes were given in payment for five shares of the capital stock of the bank, which were purchased from Jackson Dennis; that the stock is of no value, and has given no return to the holders. John and M. Levaggi are willing to pay the face of the notes, but object to being charged with interest. They offer to compromise the suits on this basis and the receiver asks permission to settle on this basis, believing that such a course will be the best for all parties concerned.

Improvements at Jackson School.

The work of installing the new sewer system at the Jackson school was commenced Wednesday. The work of putting in the eleven patent closets and making connection with the sewers is being done by day labor, under the supervision of V. S. Garbarini. The buildings have been finished provided with cement floors and everything up-to-date. The work will be completed before next school term commences in September.

The Model Army of the World.

What army was the strongest of its time? Judging by results, the Roman army was so from the fifth century B. C. onward until the division of the empire. Its fighting organization was as complete as and possibly more practical than that of any army of today. It was based on a territorial system which maintained the comradeship of locality without bringing it into antagonism with that of the corps, for each of the thirty-five Roman "tribes" was required to furnish to each legion four "centuries" of 120 men, each of which worked together as a local unit. The legion was divided into five cohorts or battalions, of which three were troops of the line, two were a kind of militia and the fifth was a depot battalion. For almost eight centuries the army thus constituted not only conquered the then known world, but acted as explorers beyond its limits and at the same time made and unmade kings and emperors in Rome itself.—Pearson's Weekly.

Too Well Done.

Mrs. Eliphalet Howe of Centerville had never encountered "Hamlet" either in the pursuit of literature or on the stage up to the time of her first visit to her Boston niece. On that occasion she was taken by the niece and her husband to see a performance of the play.

"How did you like it, Aunt Jane?" asked her nephew-in-law as he piloted the old lady up the aisle by her elbow when the performance was over.

"If that's what you call a 'play,' I call it hard work," said Aunt Jane indignantly. "How you and Nettie can sit calm in your seats and see such heartless doings is beyond me. Why, that Hamlet man looked so sick I shouldn't have been surprised if he hadn't lived to finish out his talking. And by the expression of those other folks I'll venture to say they felt the same. I had my smelling salts all ready in case o' need from the first minute he came on to the platform."

The Finicky Humor of Leschetizky.

Some amusing stories are told of Leschetizky, the great piano teacher, whose comic spirit is one of the predominating features of his character. It is well known that he is a man of strong likes and dislikes. When an American pianist a dozen or so years ago went to Vienna to study with him he wore his hair long, a habit much affected at that time by the aspiring young artist. So greatly did his general appearance annoy the professor that at the end of the first lesson the student received instructions to go and have his hair cut short. Although loath to part with his locks, the young pianist nevertheless obeyed and turned up at the next lesson with his hair cut in the conventional way. Still Leschetizky was not satisfied. "There is something about you that I don't like!" cried the professor. "Your ears are too long. Have them cut off and let your hair grow again!"—Smith's Magazine.

Electrical Discharges From Plants.

The atmosphere surrounding our earth is known to be electrified, and its charges are bound to play an important part in many phenomena. Atmospheric electrification thus is responsible for the formation of rain and hail, and, while fine weather generally is characterized by the presence of positive electricity, a change in the weather is generally accompanied by a change in the sign of atmospheric electricity. That the electrification of the air does exert some influence on plant growth is inferred from the fact that electrified plants, under the influence of sunshine, can give off electricity from the leaves, and as the air is naturally electrified relatively to the soil all plants are bound to be in a constant state of slow electrical discharge which is made active on the rising of the sun.—Technical World Magazine.

Helped Out.

A grocery clerk in a small town had been considerably bored one day by solicitors for church fairs, raffles, charity and other purposes and was getting disgusted when a small, red haired urchin came in and asked him if he could help him out with a baseball glove.

"Got the glove with you?" asked the impatient clerk.

"Er—no," answered the urchin.

"Then," said the irritable clerk as he caught him by the neck and trousers, "I'll help you out without it!"—Judge.

In a Dilemma.

"A necklace of diamonds has been stolen from me!" said Mrs. Cumrox.

"Aren't you going to notify the police?"

"I don't know what to do. It does seem rather classy to be robbed of jewelry, and yet I hate to have people think that I'd ever miss a little thing like a necklace."—Washington Star.

Exclusive.

"Where do the Hottentots live, Mary?" a schoolteacher asked one of her pupils.

"I don't know, 'm," said Mary primly. "Ma won't let me visit any of the people in this neghborhood."

The Exceptions.

"Binks has a fine new apartment."

"Everything stationary in it, I suppose."

"Absolutely everything—except his wife and the cook."—Harper's Bazar.

Cynical.

Sillicus—Do you think it is possible for one woman to make another woman perfectly happy? Cynicus—Oh, yes; simply by envying her.—Philadelphia Record.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself one.—Thomas Carlyle.

A Mistaken Uniform.

Uniformed officials are often a puzzle to American travelers. An instance of this is given in "Recollections of a Varied Career," by General W. F. Draper, formerly American ambassador to Italy. General and Mrs. Draper were traveling in Russia when they had the following amusing experience in the sleeping car:

Mrs. Draper's maid, Marie, speaks German as well as French, but Russian is beyond her. After Mrs. Draper's bed was made she desired another pillow, and Marie rushed into the corridor to get one. Seeing a man in uniform—the railway porters wear uniforms—she demanded a pillow in German.

"I have no pillows," said he.

"A bolster, then," said Marie.

"I have no bolster."

"Then give me a couple of towels to wrap up one of these dirty cushions."

"I have no towels either," said the uniform. "I am a colonel in his majesty's imperial guard."

Poor Marie nearly went into hysterics, and I was called in to explain that no offense was meant.

Woman on the Bench.

Hyman Lazarus, for many years recorder of Bayonne, knew the people who came before him. When a woman appeared to accuse a husband who had beaten her he said, "If I send him to jail you'll come back here tomorrow in tears and ask me to let him out." "No," she said, "I will not. I'd like to have him punished." "How much shall I give him then," asked Lazarus—"two months, one month, six months?" The woman, who had begun to relent, was speechless. "I'll tell you what I'll do," he said. "You come up here and take my chair, and whatever sentence you pronounce will go." The woman hesitated, but the recorder insisted. The husband was arraigned before her, and the recorder in a gruff voice ordered her to pronounce sentence. "Six months, three months, two months, a month—quick," he said; "let us have it." The woman burst into tears. She and her husband embraced and went out of court rejoicing. "There!" said Lazarus. "If you come back I'll give you six months each."—New York Press.

Rhinoceros a Bad Foe

While easily stalked, the rhinoceros is a dangerous customer, as most men will agree who have hunted him. If the rhinoceros gets one's scent he almost invariably charges, often probably from sheer curiosity, but that does not make him any the easier to dispose of. Moreover, he runs and turns at a speed inconceivable in a beast of his vast bulk. Against his massive, sloping head the heaviest bullet is a mere flea bite, leaving no possibility of a stopping shot except with a hard nose ball sent fairly into the heart through the chest. An alternative is to stand absolutely motionless, when with his bad eyesight there is a possibility he may mistake you for a tree and veer past. Indeed, the best ruse in the crisis of any charge is to stand fast and still, for even the unwounded lion sometimes swerves in his charge and retires before a man who has the nerve to wait his coming.—Edgar Beecher Bronson in Century.

Effect of Fear.

A vigorous young greengrocer, aged twenty-seven, was arrested on a Tuesday on charges of drunkenness and assaulting a policeman, who was assisted in securing him by a Mr. Lyons. On Wednesday it was announced in court that Mr. Lyons was dead, and the greengrocer was remanded to see whether the coroner's jury would hold him in any way responsible for the tragedy. By Saturday it had been found that Mr. Lyons' death was due to heart disease of long standing, but meanwhile the agonizing suspense had aged the young prisoner terribly, his black hair having become completely white.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Sinister Comment.

"That new neighbor of ours asked us to let him use our hatchet and our clothesline," said Sirius Barker's wife.

"Did you give him the hatchet?"

"Yes; the one that has nicks in it and a wabbly handle."

"And did you give him the clothesline that has been tied together in eight places?"

"Yes."

"Well, that's a case of borrowing trouble, all right."—Washington Star.

Russian Princesses.

In Russia the term "princess" does not mean very much, for the simple reason that there are so many of them and that it is never a royal title. All the female descendants of a prince of a certain rank are princesses, and the result is that many princesses are as poor and of as little account as any ill used princess of a fairy tale. The real royal princesses of Russia are styled grand duchesses. They are the daughters and sisters of the czar.

Their Real Duty.

"I was just reading of a man who has a hen that can sing; another man has a hen which whistles and imitates various birds."

"I don't care for those vaudeville hens. A hen should stick to the legit and lay eggs."—Kansas City Journal.

On the Safe Side.

"How do you ever get on so well with your wife? Don't you ever have any differences of opinion?"

"Of couse we do. But I don't let her know it."—Cleveland Leader.

A Puzzle.

Bacon—There's one thing I can't understand. Egbert—What is that? Bacon—When a couple get married they become one. But they say it takes two to make a quarrel.

Life 100,000 Years Ago

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. To-day the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, it's the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1. Guaranteed by Spagnoli's Drug Store. Trial bottle free.

A German Holiday.

At Haslach, in the Kinzig valley, in Germany, Feb. 22 is a holiday and has been observed as one for hundreds of years. Once upon a time, the story teller who explains its origin begins, Haslach was overrun with snakes, and no one knew how to drive them out. One day a great flock of storks appeared, and they were the saviors of the place. In recognition of this deliverance from the pest, which occurred on Feb. 22, the day has been kept sacred and is known as "stork day." An appointed official known as the "stork father" parades the streets, followed by as many children as care to join the procession. He wears his "Sunday clothes" and a high hat decorated with two stuffed storks. Stops are made by this procession at houses along the line, and the children receive gifts of sweets and small coins, every householder feeling pleased to show his gratitude to the stork.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, Prop. Samples free.

The Boatswain's Judgment.

It was somewhere in this wide, wide world, just where has slipped my mind, and they were about to buy beef on hoof for the ships. So the officer whose duty it is to make the purchase took ashore with him the bo's'n, as representing the crew, to look over the animals and either object or not. They approached the first animal.

"How will that do?" asked the officer.

The bo's'n cautiously approached the beast, bent down and gingerly ran his thumb and forefinger down first one shank and then the other until the whole four shanks had been examined. Straightening up he said:

"He'll do all right, sir."

The officer, flabbergasted, cried:

"But, dash it all, you can't tell the good points of a bullock by the shanks!"

"Perhaps not, sir, but they're the only parts we ever gets, sir," was the reply.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Tortured on a Horse

"For ten years I couldn't ride a horse without being in torture from piles," writes L. S. Napire, of Rugless, Ky., "when all doctors and other remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me." Infallible for piles, burns, scalds, cuts, boils, fever-sores, eczema, salt rheum, corns. 25c. Guaranteed by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

Daring Betting.

During the close of the eighteenth century the craze for gambling in England rose to an extreme. At certain notorious clubs every incident was made the subject of a wager, and thousands changed hands over the veriest trifle. A certain Mr. Blake made himself notorious by betting £1,500 that a man could live twelve hours under water. He hired a daring fellow, and, purchasing an old ship, they were sunk together by way of settling the bet. Neither ship nor man reappeared, so Mr. Blake had to pay up. The famous Earl of Carlisle once staked £5,000 on a single card at faro. On one occasion at Brooks', another noted gambling club, Lord Robert Spencer lost the last shilling of the fortune which he had obtained from his brother, the Duke of Marlborough, and General Fitzpatrick was in the same condition. The twain combined, and, borrowing a sum of money, they opened a faro bank. They had a run of luck, and Lord Spencer's share of the proceeds came to £100,000. He pocketed this cash and never gambled again.—London Tatler.

Boy's Life Saved

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by Jackson Drug Store, Spagnoli, prop.

Juliet Got the Light.

At a small seaport town a star actress of the third magnitude appeared as Juliet.

"I cannot do justice to myself," she said to the manager, "if I do not have a limelight thrown on me when I appear at the balcony."

"We ain't got no limelight, miss, but I think we could get you a ship's blue light," replied the obliging manager, and to this the lady agreed.

The lad who went to the shop to buy the blue light brought back a signal rocket, which was given to him by mistake. The prompter took the rocket in good faith.

Romeo—He jests at scars who never felt a wound.

(Juliet appears. Prompter lights a match.)

"But, soft! What light through yonder windows breaks?"

(This was the match lighting the fuse.)

"Arise, fair sun!"

The sun, or, rather, the rocket, did rise with a terrific hiss. Juliet was knocked off the balcony, the fly borders were set on fire, and the theater was filled with a sulphurous smoke, while the audience, which was fortunately a small one, made a stampede to the doors.

Since then "Romeo and Juliet" has always been looked upon in that town as a dramatic work that could not be witnessed without personal danger.—London Express.

The Foiler Foiled.

Recently one young man bet another that he could not break an egg placed on the floor of their room by hitting it with a barrel. The second young man promptly took the bet.

Thereupon the first young man carefully placed an egg in a corner of the room, just where the walls made a right angle, so that it was impossible for the other to hit the egg with an ordinary barrel.

Then the first young man proceeded to gloat.

But the other suddenly produced a revolver and broke the egg by tapping it smartly with the barrel of the weapon. Then he demanded the money.

There was quite a dispute naturally. Finally the two agreed to submit the question to the editor of a sporting paper. In due time the answer came. The sporting authority decided that the second young man was the winner of the bet, since the other had not specified in any way what kind of barrel should be used for the destruction of the egg.—New York Times.

Origin of the Term "Gringo."

To the average Mexican all Americans are "gringos." They are too polite to call you a gringo to your face, but among themselves it is the term generally used in referring to Americans. It is a term of disrespect, just as "greaser" when applied to a Mexican is an opprobrious term. "Gringo" had its origin during our war with Mexico in 1847. Bobby Burns' song, with the chorus,

Green grow the rashes, O!
Green grow the rashes, O!
The sweetest hours that e'er I spend
Are spent among the lasses, O!

was very popular then, and our soldiers in Mexico sang it on the march and on nearly every occasion. "Green grow" sounded like "gringo" to the Mexicans unacquainted with English, and they quickly learned to speak of the American soldiers as "gringos," and thenceforth this appellation has been attached to all Americans.—Outing Magazine.

Three Kinds of Cigars.

What is a Havana cigar? George Augustus Sala, who had studied Cuban cigarmaking on the spot, once set forth that three kinds of cigars come from Havana itself—first, genuine Havanas, made of tobacco grown, cured and rolled in the island of Cuba; second, cigars composed inside of United States or European tobacco imported into Cuba, with an outside wrapper of Havana leaf; third, cigars brought ready made from Europe, mostly from Bremen and Switzerland, and re-exported from Havana to Europe, where they pay duty and are sold to the unwary as "Havanas."

The Romance of Other Years.

"One of the most beautiful smiles ever seen upon the face of mortal suffused itself on the countenance of Lord St. Orville as he fell at the feet of Julia in a deathlike swoon." You probably suppose that this sentence is an extract from some schoolgirl's novelette; but, in fact, it comes from a novel which eighty years ago was seen on the tables of most people of taste and culture. That is the style which was delectable in the brave days of old.—London Telegraph.

ANY LADY can easily make from $18.00 to $25.00 per week working for me quietly in her own home locality. A Dynamo That Speaks,—Electric Power from the Wind.—Building Up Boys' Faces.—The Comet That Struck the Earth.—The Eye Magnet.—An Earthquake Recorder for Automobiles.—The Latest Word on Snake Poisons.—Annual Strata in Geology.

In the novel telephonic experiments of Prof. W. Peukert, of Brunswick, Gremany, magnets, alternating-current transformers and even dynamos have been made to talk, without the use of vibrating plates or membranes. A core of soft iron enclosed in a coil in a microphone circuit was at the same time surrounded by a second coil of wire traversed by direct current, and was thus kept constantly magnetized while subjected to the feeble variations of the microphone circuit. Words spoken into the microphone were reproduced by the magnetized iron so loudly as to be heard several yards. Trying the dynamo, the field magnets were excited, by a special continous current, and the microphone circuit was applied to the brushes. Both speech and song delivered before the microphone were reproduced by the dynamo so clearly as to be distinctly heard in a good-sized hall.

If the wind blowing over London to a height of 500 feet could be harnessed, Sidney Ransom estimated, it would do work equivalent to that of a steam engine of half a million horse-power, working day and night. Wind turbines can be used for many purposes, are simple to erect, and do not usually require towers more than 50 feet high. In Germany a wind-power electric generating equipment has been brought out. No attention is needed except to reduce the sail area of the wind wheel in storms. a storage battery stores the excess current from the dynamo until needed, and a special regulator automatically keeps at constant pressure the current supplied for house-lighting or driving small farm or other machines.

Besides a striking improvement in stature and health, boys taken from London streets for the British navy have shown a remarkable change in the shape and expression of the face. Dr. Robbins curiously attributes this development to growth of the lower jaw brought about by the chewing made necessary by the "salt junk" and other navy rations.

The theory that a large comet collided with the earth just 880 years ago appears to Prof. W. H. Pickering as quite plausible. Geologists have reached the conclusion that the now famous crater near Coon Butte, Arizona, is the scar left by a great fall of meteoric matter, and the fact that seven of the ten largest known meteorites have been found within 900 miles of this place suggests that all have been scattered fragments from the same fall. They are similar masses of iron and nickel weighing from three to twenty tons each. Geological evidence at Coon Butte indicated that the collision occurred less than 5,000 years ago, and stunted cedars growing in the crater show by their annual rings that the time must have been at least 700 years ago. Annals of Cairo, Egypt, seem to place the date in August, 1029. The record mentions a great meteoric shower, such as might be witnessed over the earth on collision with a comet, and there was not only a brilliant light but a great noise, in contrast with the stillness of other meteoric showers that have been known.

The type of powerful electromagnet that is being used in many English hospitals for removing iron and steel particles from the eye has a core of the best Swedish soft iron, three feet long and six inches in diameter, which is wound with 200 pounds of insulated wire in two coils. The threaded end of the magnet is adapted to receive terminals of shapes varied to suit special cases. Mounted on ball bearings, the magnet can be moved easily in any direction; and a special form—for reclining patients—is geared so as to be tilted by a hand crank. A rheostat varies the strength of the magnet, which at the maximum, exerts a pull of 30 pounds per square inch at a distance of one inch.

A seismograph registering the jolts of a motor vehicle was a novel exhibit by Hon R. C. Parsons at a late soiree of the London Royal Society. The apparatus consists of a weight carried by the horizontal arm of a bell crank lever, the other arm of which is connected to a link holding a pencil against a paper-covered revolving drum. Jolts displace vertically the point of suspension of the bell crank lever, giving an angular movement that is recorded by a horizontal motion of the pencil on the paper of the drum. The record gives an indication of the movements of the car-body by obstacles or depressions in the road.

Two classes of snake poisons are recognized by Dr. Calmette, Director of the Pasteur Institute at Lille. The venoms of the cobra, bungarus and other serpents of the East have a powerful action upon the nervous system, but the poisons of such snakes as the cerastes, rattlesnake and adder have more strictly localized effects. An old error is the idea that the poison is only fatal, when it is taken into the veins. When taken into the stomach in sufficient doses, its action is very powerful, and sucking poison from a bite is not without serious danger. Another common mistake is the belief that snakes are immune to the poison of other snakes. Dr. Calmette's experiments have shown that rattlesnake poison will kill cobras, and that it is only bites from their own species that snakes can bear without injury. If injected promptly, certain chemicals—such as permanganate of potassium, chloride of gold, chloride of lime and chromic acid—have considerable value as antidotes. The only really effective remedy, however, has proven to be a serum produced by successive inoculations of rabbits, guinea pigs, or preferably, horses, and the efficiency of this is almost certain if used within two hours after the bite.

A new geological time indicator has been brought to notice by Baron G. de Geer, of Stockholm. Deposits of laminated clay have been found in lowlands bordering the Baltic, and it is supposed that the alternating bands of dark and light have had an origin comparable to that of the rings of trees, which they resemble. The clays seem to have been laid down by sub-glacial streams during the retreat of the ice-sheet at the close of the glacial period. It is concluded that the dark clay with its great vegetable matter, was deposited in autum and winter, that the light clay was washed down by the melting ice and snow in spring, and that the brown clay was the summer deposit. As the ice border receded, the clay record extended farther inland and north.

A permanently self-luminous watch-dial and military night compass was a late exhibit in London by C. E. S. Phillips. The glass dials have figures on the upper surface, and are backed with a radium bromide compound. The figures stand out very clearly at night.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regulets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Nest Eggs.

Take a nice fresh egg and separate the white and the yolk so that the yolk will not be broken. Put the white into a bowl, add a pinch of salt and beat it until it is very stiff. Have ready some little bowl that is pretty enough to put on the table, but that will not break in the oven. Pour into this the stiff beaten white and make a little hole in the middle of it with a spoon. In this little hollow place the yolk, still unbroken. Set the dish in a hot oven and cook for three or four minutes, or until the white has browned a little and the yolk is firm. There must be a separate dish for each egg that you cook in this way. Serve right away.—Delineator.

The Echo.

A little boy was amusing himself by hallooing, then listening for the echo. "What is the echo, mamma?" he asked. His mother attempted to explain, feeling all the while how inadequate her explanation was. The little fellow trotted along at her side, silent for some minutes. Then his eyes fell upon his shadow.

"Oh, I know what echo is," he exclaimed joyfully. "It's the shadow of our voices."—Los Angeles Times.

California School Census

Statement by Superintend't Hyatt

California has nearly a half-million children of school age according to the official state school census just completed by superintendent Edward Haytt. The exact number according to the combined totals from California's 58 counties is 469, 431. Compared with the returns for 1909 the gain in the number of school children between the ages of 5 and 17 is nearly 30 per cent. The increase during the nine years is 108,-278.

Using the ratio 4.3 which is a means between the ratio used by ultra-conservative statistnians and the higher muliplier used by others, the population of California is estimated to be 2,018,533. The lowest ratio used, namely 3.9 would give a population very near the 2,000,000 mark. This means that California has gained more than 500,000 in population in the last nine years.

One of the remarkable points about the 1909 census is that compared with the 1908 returns the increase in the number of families listed is greater than the increase in the number of census children. The number of families listed is 285,287, an increase of 14,063. But the increase of census children is 12,538. The rate of census children per family in 1908 was 1.68 while for 1909 it is 1.64. The falling off of 4 per cent furnishes a slight basis for Roosevelt race-suicide observations. The decrease is general over the state according to returns from county officials.

There are 3738 Mongolian children of school age in California. This includes both Japanese and Chinese children, and represents an increase of 8.73 in the last twelve months. the ratio being 30 per cent. There is a great disparity between the number of Mongolian boys and the number of Mongolian girls, the increase in the number of boys being three times the increase in the number of girls.

There are actually more Indian than negro children in California. The number of Indian children is 3.43, an increase over 1908 of 169. The number of negro children is 29,31, a loss of 9. There is one less negro boy in California this year than last.

Children are attending school better than ever before. Of the total number of census children the number attending public school was 352,-935 an increase of 10,411; the number attending private schools was 33,367, decrease of 931; while the number that were not in school at all was 83,129, an increase of 2,903. But this is misleading calculation unless it be remembered that the census includes children of 5 years of age who are not enrolled in school.

Consideration of the total number attending school, the number attending private schools, and the number that are not in school shows that the public school system is thoroughly appreciated by the people, and that parents are sending their children more and more to public schools.

California's population is 2,000,000 according to estimate based on the 1909 State school census.

California has 469, 431 children of school age, that is, between the ages of 5 and 17.

They would make a line 250 miles long, or as far as from San Francisco to Reno, Nevada.

The number of children per family is slightly decreasing. The numer of Japanese and Chinese children is increasing very rapidly, much faster proportionately than the number of white children.

The Indian children in California outnumber the negro children. Negro children are slightly decreasing in number.

More children are attending school every year in comparison with the total number of school age.

The number of chilren attending the private schools during 1908-1909 is slightly less than the number for the year preceding. Observation from the 1909 State School Census.

A $100 Typewriter for 17 cents a Day

Please read the headline over again. Then its tremendous significance will dawn upon you.

An Oliver Typewriter—the standard visible writer—the $100 machine—the most highly perfected typewriter on the market—yours for 17 cents a day!

The typewriter whose conquest of the commercial world is a matter of business history—yours for 17 cents a day!

The typewriter that is equipped with scores of such conveniences as "The Balance Shift," the "Ruling Device," the "Double Release," the "Locomotive Base," the "Automotic Spacer," the "Automatic Tabulator," the "Disappearing Indicator," the "Adjustable Paper Fingers," the "Scientific Condensed Keyboard," all

Yours for 17 Cents a Day!

We announced this new sales plan recently, just to feel the pulse of the people. Simply a small cash payment, then 17 cents a day. That is the plan in a nutshell.

The result has been such a deluge of applications for machines that we are simply astounded.

The demand comes from people of all classes, all ages, all occupations.

The majority of inquiries has come from people of known financial standing who were attracted by the novelty of the proposition. An impressive demonstration of the immense popularity of the Oliver Typewriter.

A startling confirmation of our belief that the Era of Universal Typewriting is at hand.

A Quarter of a Million People are Making Money with

The OLIVER Typewriter

The Standard Visible Typewriter

The Oliver Typewriter is a money-maker, right from the word "go!" So easy to run that beginners soon get in the "expert" class. Earn as you learn. Let the machine pay the 17 cents a day—and all above that is yours.

Wherever you are, there's work to be done and money to be made by using the Oliver. The business world is calling for Oliver operators. There are not enough to supply the demand. Their salaries are considerably above those of many classes of workers.

An Oliver Typewriter in every Home

That is our battle cry today. We have made the Oliver supreme in usefulness and absolutely indispensable in business. Now comes the conquest of the home.

The simplicity and strength of the Oliver fit it for family use. It is becoming an important factor in the home training of young people. An educator as well as a money maker.

Our new selling plan puts the Oliver on the threshold of every home in America. Will you close the doors of your home or office on this remarkable Oliver opportunity?
